

The Tracking Times

Easy Fleet GPS releases a mapping platform update - green directional arrow.

The Easy Fleet Fleet GPS team is excited to announce a new update to the mapping platform.

We have added a green directional arrow to moving vehicles on the user interface.

This gives you the ability to easily see the direction of your moving vehicles.

Easy Fleet GPS can help reduce your fuel costs by 22% without reverting to a horse & buggy.

Easy Fleet GPS offers many solutions to help reduce your fuel costs.

Monitor idling. Did you know one hour of idling equals one gallon of gas? Through our automated reports and immediate notifications, you can reduce your fleet's idling and reduce your fuel costs.

Monitor speed. The faster a vehicle travels, the more gas is used. So a truck traveling 80 mph will use up more gas than a vehicle traveling 65 mph.

Monitor unauthorized use. You can see where and when your vehicles are traveling. Are your vehicles being used on the weekends for personal use? Are your vehicles being used for personal use during the workday?

According to studies backed by the Department of Energy, the average vehicle will be at its advertised peak efficiency MPG at 55 mph. As the speed increases, you lose up to 28% of efficiency when traveling at highway speeds!

Please contact us for more information on how we can help you reduce your overall costs of managing your fleet.

Easy Fleet GPS offers tracking solutions for your heavy equipment, trailers, and assets.

Easy Fleet GPS also offers tracking solutions for your assets, trailers, and equipment. It is equally important to track your assets and equipment as it is to track your vehicles.

You receive the same benefits of vehicle tracking with real-time data showing where your assets are located at any time.

You can also track its use which helps you determine if you have any specific asset that is being underutilized.
